Tribute to Brandy Vaughn: 'True Warrior, Great Mother and Revolutionary'

Vaughn, who passed away Dec. 7 reportedly from gallbladder complications, founded Learn The Risk in response to one of the nation's first mandatory vaccination for education laws.

After leaving the pharmaceutical industry, Brandy spent eight years living in Europe where she saw how healthcare is handled very differently from here in the U.S. She gave birth to her son Bastien while she was overseas.

Brandy then spent several years researching vaccine ingredients and the risks of vaccinating versus not vaccinating. Brandy chose to raise her son without chemical interference, as in her words, "You owe it to your child to do your own research and not just believe everything you're told, especially when it's only one side of the story — the one that prioritizes profit over your child's health."

Brandy travelled the world educating people at numerous events, rallies and symposiums. She truly was an inspirational shining light. We admired her passion, ferocity, fortitude, honesty and especially her amazing knowledge and fearlessness in debating anyone, anywhere, at any time.

Brandy is survived by her 9-year old son, Bastien, the love of her life. Bastien will join his grandparents and father in France shortly.

Brandy was a true warrior, a great mother and a revolutionary. The world lost a great angel and our movement will never be the same without her.

If you'd like to contribute to Bastien's care and education fund, details will be posted as they become available. Please do not give money to other GoFundMe accounts or unverified sources as friends have been unable to verify how those funds will be used.

Having written about over 200 holistic doctors and activists many of whom were friends of mine including Brandy Vaughn, Who interviewed me on numerous occasions and I interviewed her as well on video, we know that she stated that if she were found dead it was most likely foul play. She stated that there would be a small team put in place which includes our close mutual friend, to do an independent autopsy which was her request in writing and on her page and on video, that would be done along with an investigation with hired investigators. Obviously that hasn't been done and just days before she died she was at Thanksgiving traveling many miles and hours to our mutual friend Tina's house where she had a big Thanksgiving dinner with no problems along with her son and tina's kids and family.

Repeatedly, we see holistic doctors or activists found dead, and then an independent autopsy is done and the cause of death changes completely. I have several in my series who I can give as examples.

Even though go fund me shut down the fundraiser that Brandi had asked for specifically, because they are anti-health freedom which they have displayed in the past, we hope that there will be enough to do this independent autopsy and a higher investigators which were her wishes.

Today I miss a good friend, and colleague, and fellow journalist who was one of the best with a big heart and a hero to many.

I've written not only about her wishes for an independent autopsy and stating that she did feel as if her life had been threatened and she had had credible threats, but also, that she had written me specifically about the fear of being poisoned. If it were gallbladder problems in a healthy fit slim woman under 45 who just days before was feeling awesome, and suddenly died, then so be it, but we would be doing her a disservice if we did not listen to her wishes and it is sad some of the movement trying to squelch them. Thank you Bobby as always, we are grateful to know you and thanks for sharing this on your site, and I will send you an email Or text about her wishes which you may not be aware of. Sincerely Erin Elizabeth and Dr. Mercola

The MMO are there for many, if not all of the people you and Dr. Mercola have been documenting over the years. It's not just that these people were threatening profits, but also that they represented threats to expose a vast program of class eugenics. As noted in the Dr. Richard Day tapes, the ruling plutocracy has sequestered cures for terminal disease for decades under the seemingly noble aegis of population control for the common good.

Unfortunately, it has nothing to do with the common good. if it were, the people responsible for these programs would not each leave ecological footprints perhaps a billion times the size of those they are poisoning and sterilizing. As all of our resources fall into fewer and fewer hands, the rest are left with the choice of going without families or rebelling. The ruling class well-understands we have passed the rebellion threshold. Rather than disgorging largely purloined billions, they have decided to further neutralize their threat via aggressive "fertility management" where homicide is also a means of their threat via aggressive fertility management where homicide is also a means of reproductive curtailment.

"Rockefeller Medicine" is a eugenics program and many of the people on your list either blew the whistle or gave internal security teams reason to believe they planned to. Should the right person divulge critical information, it would be a threat to population management programs moving forward and a threat to the establishment that has likely sterilized and terminated millions of lives. In silencing Brandy and this growing list of scientists and alternative medicine researcher-practitioners, they send a chilling message to the thousands of employees who are entertaining similar thoughts. If we don't get to the bottom of what happened to Brandy Vaughn, we will be betraying her, rewarding her (suspected) killers, and telling future whistleblowers the oppressors will prevail.

As you said, this is a most unusual way for a woman of her age, BMI, and apparent fitness level to die. It's not impossible, of course, but it's more than suspicious enough to investigate as thoroughly as possible. The mechanisms to impact someone's health via tainted air, food, water, and even COVID "test" certainly exist, and that is just if we are to believe PhD's who have given lectures published on YouTube. It's also reasonable to assume that a person in her situation would have divulged a life-threatening condition to you or to her other friends and would have had plans in place for her son. We owe it to her, to her son, to future whistleblowers, and to about 99% of the world's population to do what we can to determine the truth.

Thanks for speaking out, Erin. How many 44 yr. old women die of gallbladder "issues"? I'm sure some kind of cover story will be in place for a while, meantime, please investigate her home security company asap. Thanks.

I so want to believe it was anything but murder but given how much big pharma wanted to silence her and given that she was a young, vibrant, healthy woman, this gallbladder narrative feels pretty thin.

Collective Evolution provided an update to RJK, Jr.'s information as follows: "I have been in contact with a close friend of Brandy. According to her, she was fine, ate a lot over thanksgiving and seemed totally healthy. Apparently it was a sudden death that

If she had a gallbladder issue for most of 2020, wouldn't her close friends have known about it? That said, "Serious complications of a rupture can be fatal." I would imagine that would be pretty evident if that happened. I also found this statistic: In 2017, 3,793 people died from gallstones or other gallbladder disorders.

A rupture can obviously be fatal.

Do share your first-hand knowledge. Many of us are following this tragic story and are very concerned about Brandy's sudden death and all want to know more--do we have information from a coroner as to cause of death...? Thanks so much.

Please share what you can. Even if she did, it's extremely unusual for a woman of her age and apparent level of fitness to DIE of gallbladder problems. It's certainly not impossible, but it's also POSSIBLE this problem was triggered intentionally.

username56 → Les Toolish • a day ago

It occurs more among women than men, and the age is trending younger. If she only saw a naturopath for treatment, then she was at increased risk of fatal complications. <https://www.bmhvt.org/gallb...>

Keep in mind if you have gallbladder issues, or even sinus issues, it doesn't mean you can't be murdered prior to an infection resulting in your death. An independent autopsy from a non-biased source needs to confirm the exact cause of death. That's the only way to be sure.

I too trust the people of CHD. However, it should not be ignored that the timing is extremely peculiar. Brandy seems likely to have shared a potentially fatal disease with someone who would have divulged that this was not a suspicious death. I hasten to add that gallbladder disease, though not unheard of, is extremely unusual in a woman her age and BMI. Assassination science is known to be quite advanced, using various types of radiation, insertional mutagenesis, and smart nano-materials, this according to publicly-available videos by experts in modern bioweapons.

We have little idea of how advanced our DNA-weapons are presently. However, Vladimir Putin seems to believe the possession of genotype permits the targeting of that genotype for "controlled demolition". He and others expressed this concern when it was revealed that the US was collecting Russian DNA, presumably for use in projects with their bioweapons lab in Georgia.

Please don't send her son to France. I live there and their dictator is hell bent on vaxxing the crap outta these mildly vaxxed kids. And we all know that the part about gallbladder problems is bull!

"As a former executive of Merck who spoke out against vaccines, she was harassed and threatened. She knew she was at risk. A year ago, she made a video recording of how her home had been repeatedly broken into, items moved, and she suspected that her home had been bugged. Incidents occurred to demonstrate that someone had been listening to her conversations or watching her by camera...."

A very rational concern. Radiation weapons, nanotech weapons, aerosols, are known to be advanced enough to deploy against "enemies" according to experts in these fields. I hasten to add that there are doctors stationed at many hospitals who are tasked with responding to "national security issues". These doctors "manage" all sorts of situations (e.g., Seth Rich, victims from public aerosol experiments, etc.). The extent to which American medicine is infiltrated is verboten information, but but is at least partially visible when observing these teams of sold out physicians who are pushing easily debunked narratives about both vakseens and COVID-19.

Steve Jobs died of cancer at a convenient time. One year after he died, the last major holdout, Apple, signed on with the Surveillance State (see documentary Shadowgate). I think that when people die of health problems at convenient times, that it's healthy to be asking these questions in regards to foul play. The Russians are pros at killing people in such ways. I even have a yoga instructor who a frightened student (who owed her money) tried to kill by poisoning her pool with arsenic. She didn't catch it until she got her next regular hair analysis and suddenly arsenic was through the roof, got the water tested and...whoa! So yeah, what toxin causes gallbladder dysfunction? That would be the question to ask

Children's Defense fund now has an obligation to clarify the facts in this story of "gallbladder complications, a medical issue that she privately struggled with throughout 2020," or investigate the claims of her associates on this comment thread.

amac4 → Robert D Shaffer • a day ago

Gallbladder complications can certainly be triggered with high tech weaponry, as can heart attacks, strokes, tumors and cancer. I don't think Brandy would mind us sharing ideas and trying to get at the truth, out of respect for her warnings and for the risks she took for our children. The technology is covert military and beyond our imagination in most cases, and always could appear to be natural causes, accidental or coincidental.

 against taking that action and gave her reasons (I have never seen that video so I cannot report it as fact only hearsay) but I would request that you investigate this for us so that the truth may be exposed ---whatever that might be.

It does seem awfully suspicious . Many who knew her and her work here in CA seem to be convinced there was foul play--with a memorial rally being held tomorrow in Santa Monica.

She did not have any gallbladder problems and if she had it would have easily been fixed quickly. She was completely healthy and had a Thanksgiving with her son and all was well. She had alerted numerous people that she was very concerned and possibly scared that something was going to happen to her and IF it did, to immediately do an independent autopsy and go after whomever robber her son of his mother. Fake news once again as nothing was wrong with her health at all
